COUNTY ON THE RIGHT TRACK

That San Mateo County is on the right track in government and to stay there should continue on with the present county manager in office may be gathered from reports of the results of a survey just made at Stanford University at the western conference of commercial and trade executives.

According to the United Press' report of the survey, a general cleanup of county governments, termed the "most inefficient, extravagant, and wasteful of all political units," was urged in a United States Chamber of Commerce tax economy report, compiled from statistics presented by 60 chambers in Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

The report said that county government, in general, is "over-elaborate, unduly expensive, and inefficient" because administrative officers are elected without regard to qualifications, and there is no one chief officer in county government to co-ordinate functions. The report suggested centralization of purchasing, careful attention to costs of welfare and charities, proper budgeting, employment of a properly trained road engineer, and an "awakening to the necessity of developing unit costs and other standards of measurement as a means of determining the efficiency and costs of public service."

Thus the report is a clear-cut recommendation of San Mateo County's governmental setup, for here County Manager Ernest A. Rolison was chosen solely with regard for his qualifications and he is the chief officer in county government. Since he has been in office he has done much to co-ordinate functions. He has centralized purchasing, devoted attention to costs of welfare, spent much time both this year and last with the budget, and through installation of the service bureau in the county has developed unit costs and other standards of measurement exactly as recommended by the comprehensive survey.

Furthermore, Mr. Rolison already has taken care of standardizing mileage fees, another matter touched on by the survey, which pointed out that fees varied from 3 1/2 to 10 cents.

Apparently San Mateo County is just one jump ahead of the average county, having already done virtually all the things recommended by the survey. To do other than to continue on this path of progress would certainly be a step backward for San Mateo County.

Lafayette Club Directors Back Ernest Rolison

Going on record as demanding "capable executives and not politicians who want a job"—in the words of Pres. Leon Dentragnies—the San Mateo County Lafayette Club board of directors voted unanimously last night to recommend that the club endorse Ernest A. Rolison, incumbent county executive, for re-election.

The directors of the influential organization of French-speaking Americans met at the Perichon House, San Mateo, to recommend an entire slate of state and county candidates.

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt was the only other unanimous endorsement for San Mateo County office.

The recommendations of the directors will be submitted to the club at its next meeting.

CERQUI WINS DEPUTYSHIP

Eugene Cerqui of Redwood City, former deputy county clerk, has been appointed deputy sheriff temporarily to take the place of John Simpkin, who is absent on sick leave.

It is believed that the gympsies originally came from Northern India.

RILEY HAS NO CHANCE

Ray L. Riley, who aspires to be the Republican nominee for U. S. Senator, has had both feet in the political trough for over a quarter of a century. After filling minor positions in San Bernardino, his home county, he was appointed state controller nearly 25 years ago. Last year Governor Merriam, to get rid of him to make way for another Riley, appointed him railroad commissioner for a term of six years on an annual salary of $8000. Riley had no sooner warmed his seat than he began campaigning for senator.

Riley has no particular ability for the position. He may be a good clerk, but as a statesman he is woefully deficient and would be a nonentity in Washington. It would be nonsense to compare him with such men as Samuel Shortridge, or our present senator, Hiram Johnson, both of whom have been a credit to the state in the upper house of congress.

The people need not worry, Riley would not be elected Senator from California this year or any other time for that matter.

TWENTY CATTLE SCATTERED AS TRUCK WRECKED

The marsh on the east side of Bayshore Hwy. looked like a wild western range Monday as 20 head of cattle, bound for a San Francisco butcher, scrambled through the mud after the 12-wheeled truck in which they were being transported ran off the road into a slough, at the north limits of Redwood City.

The driver, Marvin Davis, 29, was in a critical condition at Mills Memorial Hospital, suffering from a severed tongue, dislocated neck, broken right shoulder, right arm, and jaw. Davis was unable to talk. Owner of the heavy truck, Harold Dyer of Corcoran, who rushed here by auto upon learning of the mishap, said he believed the driver fell asleep and drove off the road. The vehicle careened over the side road and into six feet of water without overturning. The weight of the cattle thrown

Local Resident's Father Succumbs

Resident of Redwood City for four months, Daniel Patrick Dolan, father of Joseph W. Dolan, owner of a local wrecking firm, passed away Sunday afternoon at the Emerald Lake home of the younger Dolan.

Mr. Dolan had been employed by a San Francisco lumber firm until he became ill just before coming to Redwood City.

Mr. Dolan leaves his wife, Dora N. Dolan of San Francisco; a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy M. Toomey of San Francisco; two grandchildren, Patricia Ann and Joseph W. Dolan Jr. of Redwood City, and two brothers, Joseph F. and George Dolan of San Francisco.

Bids Are Due On August 23

The tragedy of 1906 when San Mateo County's spanking new courthouse was wrecked by earthquake before it was occupied—will not be repeated in 1938.

This was apparent from the plans and specifications for the $238,000 courthouse annex, approved Tuesday by the board of supervisors and submitted for bids. Bids will be opened Aug. 23.

The plans, prepared by Architect Will H. Toepke, have been approved as earthquake resistant by U. S. Persons, registered civil engineer, according to an official statement appended to the blueprints.

Persons certified that the plans complied with the uniform building code provisions in effect in Redwood City, as well as to the "Act to Regulate Construction of Buildings in California in respect to Resistance to Horizontal Forces," passed by the 1933 legislature.

"PAY AS YOU GO"

The annex, according to Supervisor Fred E. Beer, will be built on a "pay as you go" plan. While the county is still paying off the 40-year, 4 per cent bonds passed in 1906 for erecting and furnishing the present courthouse, the annex will be completely paid for at the end of the current fiscal year, he predicted.

The county has $100,000 on hand and will levy another $50,000 this year, he said. PWA has granted the county $163,000, a 45 per cent gift. This will leave the county approximately $20,000 to furnish the annex, provided the bids do not exceed the architect's estimates.

Equipped with elevators and a central heating plant, the three-story annex will offer ample room for present county offices. Not all of the various rooms have been assigned, according to the plans.

FLOOR PLAN TOLD

A "memorial lobby" occupies the center space of the first two floors.

On the first floor are the offices of the assessor and tax collector. The second floor provides space for the county executive, purchasing agent, service division, treasurer, and controller. On the third floor is a spacious meeting room for the board of supervisors, large enough to seat 150. In one wing are the offices of the building inspector, planning engineer and planning commission draftsmen. The other wing provides space for the district attorney, county engineer, deputy county engineer, engineer's drafting room, committee and caucus rooms for the board of supervisors.

The annex will front on Redwood City's Broadway, and will be connected with passageways to the present courthouse.

Final arguments before Judge Trabucco Monday brought a concession by counsel for Mrs. Brown, now the wife of a Washington physician, that the amount due, with "legitimate" deductions allowed, is $5444.

Crash Funds Suit Pondered

Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco today had under submission in San Francisco Mrs. Mignon Baker Brown's suit seeking to regain part of the more than $9000 possessed in October, 1936, by Lewis M. Baker, alias Dick Tracy, underworld figure, when he was fatally injured in a Bayshore Hwy. accident near South San Francisco.

Final arguments before Judge Trabucco Monday brought a concession by counsel for Mrs. Brown, now the wife of a Washington physician, that the amount due, with "legitimate" deductions allowed, is $5444.

Defendants in the case are John C. Farrell, former San Francisco policeman, and Dr. Nathan Housman, physician who was a central figure in the Frank Egan murder case of a decade ago.

Validity of a release which Mrs. Brown signed not realizing she was foregoing almost $10,000 in cash and justification of the $5000 fee which Dr. Housman collected for medical services were attacked by Herbert Leland, representing the plaintiff.

Arguing in Farrell's defense, Atty. Abraham Dresow declared that Farrell had received but $100 of the Baker funds, which he had expended for a business trip to Los Angeles to clear up Baker's affairs.

Farrell and Dr. Housman are asked to return the $5444.

EXPERIENCE, RECORD QUALIFY ROLISON FOR RETURN TO POST

(EDITORIAL)

In County Manager Ernest A. Rolison, San Mateo County has an executive equipped for his job by 20 years of training and practical experience in civic management and government. That is why during the past year he has been able to introduce businesslike methods into county affairs, save the county money, and represent the county in an efficient, dignified manner.

With intelligent voters lies the responsibility of keeping this man in office, for he is not a politician winning supporters and campaign workers through promises of jobs. As a matter of fact, he is so busy preparing the county's budget that he has little time to do the campaigning that is necessary when a man is seeking elective office.

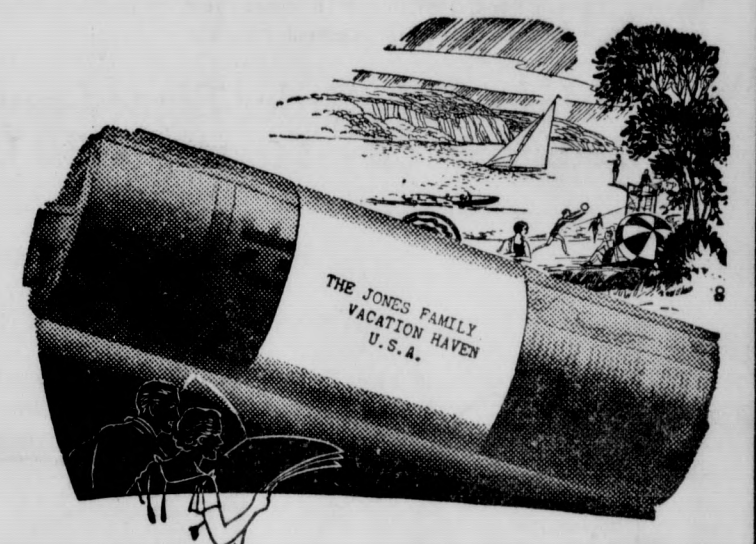

Before casting their ballots in the primary—and it must be remembered that since there are only two candidates for the executiveship the primary vote will be decisive—voters should sharpen their memories. They should recollect the hysterical political era that preceded Mr. Rolison's appointment, contrasted to the calm efficiency which has marked the year he has served as executive. They should remember the job patronage of the Al Witt regime and the machine control of county affairs as contrasted to the merit system Mr. Rolison has used.

We believe that a sure way to prevent return of days like those when the county was ruled by politicians rather than administered by trained executives is to elect Mr. Rolison to the office to which he was appointed on a basis of merit. Mr. Rolison's 16 years of experience as city manager of three California cities and his previous practice as a civil engineer show him to be thoroughly qualified for the position. That his experience is accompanied by ability is shown in what he has done during his first year in office. His consolidation of the offices of purchasing agent and publicity director with the executiveship is saving the county $6500 in salaries alone. His setting up of standardized purchasing in quantity lots will save the county an estimated $30,000 to $40,000 annually.

All over the United States the battle is being waged of the politician vs. the career man trained for public office. Citizens in San Mateo County who wish to fire a shot for merit rather than pull, for training rather than a handshake and a haul-fellow-well-met ability, will vote Aug. 30 to retain Ernest A. Rolison as county manager.

Over 10% million women were gainfully employed in the U. S. at the time of the 1930 census, six times as many as in 1870.

The boundaries between Manchoukiao and Russia and Korea and Russia averaged almost one "border incident" a day in 1937.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

W. W. Hendricks, candidate for county engineer, greeted friends here this week. Mr. Hendricks has a large following in Menlo Park. His election is almost assured.

Teddy Dale, who has been quite ill, is recovering. He will soon be able to resume his duties as chief gardener at the Church of the Nativity.

The Rev. Father Hoy is here from Seattle, acting as chaplain at Corpus Christi Monastery until the middle of September. Father Hoy was one of the first priests to be ordained at St. Patrick's Seminary. He is greeted by old friends who knew him as a student here.

Mrs. J. J. Barrett, who passed away in San Francisco last Saturday, was well known in Menlo Park. The Barrett family has always spent the Summer months here. Mr. Barrett is the well known attorney who was prominent in the celebrated Flood case.

J. Debenetti, well known commission merchant and a resident of San Mateo, has purchased an estate at Woodside near the Fay holdings. He will move his family there when he closes his Summer place at Lake Tahoe.

Richard Wolfe, who was killed at a railroad crossing near Redwood City last Saturday, had lived in Menlo Park for several years and was highly respected. E. J. McLaughlin knew him in Tonopah, Nev., 25 years ago, when both were in business there.

George Golder, a former resident of Menlo Park, was here Sunday to witness the christening of the new bus, "City of Menlo Park."

The Golder family were the first settlers of Menlo Park.

The christening of the new vehicle, "City of Menlo Park," the latest unit of the Greyhound Bus Line, Sunday afternoon drew a large crowd. Mike Hara, chief of the fire department, was the chairman of the day; Paul McCarthy, the orator, McCarthy gave a very fine address, giving a brief history of Menlo Park. He was listened to with rapt attention. Mayor J. E. Cooper, in a neat speech, welcomed the crowd. Pretty Miss Hoss broke a bottle of champagne on the wheel of the car, after which the interior of the vehicle was inspected by the crowd.

Isabelle Weeden Lindquist, Menlo Park "Merriam for Governor" chairman, attended a luncheon Thursday at the Oak Tree Garden in San Mateo. Mrs. W. D. James, state chairman, was the speaker.

The Native Daughters of the Golden West gave their candidates' card party Wednesday night in Central School auditorium. There was a record attendance.

The local Lion's Club had a barbecue supper in Roger Reynolds's Atherton Picnic Park Thursday night.

Mrs. Foster Andrews and her son, George, are visiting friends in Santa Barbara. They motored south with Mr. and Mrs. George Angus and their two sons, Richard and George Jr.

A collection of English magazines that date from 1834 and feature "wild west" stories or historical items concerning New Mexico, has been acquired by the New Mexican Historical society.

Disaster Feared
In Russ Bombings

If the Russo-Japanese clash
now occurring on the Manchoukuan-Siberian border develop into a major war and Russia bombs Yokohama, the disaster would be comparable to that of the earthquake of 1923, Thomas Fawcett, for 14 years a resident of Japan, told members of the Exchange Club
Tuesday night.

Reason, Fawcett explained, was the flimsy type of construction of buildings in the Japanese city, erected following the great earthquake.
Despite this danger to Japan, it is the Japanese who are provoking
the skirmishes on the border, Fawcett said he believed. Rulers and military leaders of the country, secure in their homes, appear not to realize the full import of the danger facing them.

Fawcett, now a resident of Red-work at Stanford University, also discussed the China-Japanese strife

El Camino Real Plea Plans Delayed Month

Plans of a San Mateo County delegation to converge on Sacramento Friday to plead for El Camino Real widening funds met a setback today when the State Highway Commission through Sen. Harry Parkman advised local leaders in the movement that a crowded calendar this week would not permit the commission to give a hearing to the Peninsula group which had planned to attend.

However, Parkman informed Henry Witte, the commission will reserve a place on its calendar Sept. 2 at 11 a.m. for the San Mateo County delegation. At that time, Witte said, a delegation will be formed to meet with the commission.

Pageant Plans Being Formed

To the southern end of San Mateo County, Director Lou Ashe today cast hopeful eyes for dancers, singers and instrumentalists to be used in the colorful San Mateo Fiesta—"The Rise of Don Largo"—which will be a nightly feature of the big event to be staged Sept. 21-25.

"Our pageant last year was a success because of the many talented artists exclusively drawn from San Mateo County," Ashe said.

"Many of those in the cast were from Redwood City and Southern San Mateo County. This year's pageant, a sequel to last year's, will be even more colorful and will require an even greater cast. Hence this early appeal for talent."

As was the case last year, the pageant will be adapted from the pen of Stewart Edward White. It will carry on the story of Don Largo, whose adventures were so stirring offered in the 1937 pageant which was entitled, "The Song of Don Largo."

Fiesta Fandango Funds Requested

Ted Schwan, San Mateo Junior Chamber of Commerce member, Tuesday apologized to the board of supervisors for his meager mustache.

"I'm blona you know, and it takes me a long time to get it in shape for our fiesta fandango in September," he declared, warming up to a request for funds. He wanted from $75 to $100 to help pay for a four-page broadside in the California Junior Chamber of Commerce's monthly magazine—an ambitious layout praising high the merits of San Mateo County, in particular the merits of the San Mateo fiesta fandango. The board told him they'd think about it when the budget comes up next week.

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP)—A duckling with four legs, four wings, two tails and one head was discovered here by Mrs. Theresa Kindel. The struggle of cracking open its egg was too much for the freak, and it died before completing its exit.

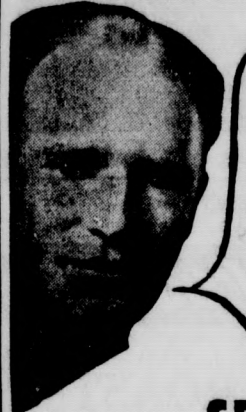

In its wild state the plumage of the canary is olive-green, or greenish-yellow, tinged with brown.

Complaints Are Heeded

Support of a stand taken by City Manager C. L. Dimmitt when he asked the Southern Pacific to re-install a human flagman at the Jefferson Ave. grade crossing in Redwood City was given by the council Monday.

Dimmitt had submitted a copy of a letter he had sent to Supt. J. J. Jordan of the S. P. pointing out that present automatic signals appeared inadequate there.

In fact, Dimmitt told Jordan, a tragedy was averted there only recently by a policeman who was stopped in his patrol car waiting passage of a train and sounded his siren to prevent two cars containing women and children from driving directly in front of a through train.

Principal trouble, Dimmitt said, is that motorists become careless and ignore the warning bell when it rings so much because of switching operations in that vicinity. A human flagman, at least during the switching hours, who could operate the signal manually, would solve the problem, Dimmitt wrote Jordan.

"I cannot ignore the numerous complaints and criticisms that have been made," he added. It was at Jefferson that a city employee recently ran his dump truck, into a train, but escaped without injury.

NO 'BLOCKADE' ON LOVE

In this scene from "Blockade," which closes its Fox Sequoia engagement Saturday night, Henry Fonda and Madeleine Carroll seem to be stealing a few moments away from the Spanish war zone. This picture, originally previewed at the Sequoia, will this time find new expression through the medium of the new $15,000 wide-range sound installation.

Two Youths on Boat Sailing for France

Jack Brook and James Bonner of Redwood City, graduates of Capt. L. F. Bosshardt's junior mariner school at Redwood City Yacht Harbor, left Sunday afternoon on the steamship H. M. Storey, owned by Standard Oil Co. for Le Havre, France. The youths are employed on the ship, but expect to get some time off in France to see Paris. Captain Bosshardt's new class opens tomorrow night at 7 o'clock at the harbor. He still has room for five youngsters interested in sea careers, he said. Interested boys should appear at the harbor tomorrow evening.
